

Enhancing Achievement for Young Bilingual Learners

by Dr Tony Eaude, University of Oxford

This pack of training materials draws on a research project in six primary schools in Newham and Sheffield looking at the factors which ensured successful provision for young children of Bangladeshi heritage.

The pack will be valuable for all staff teaching young bilingual children whatever their language background and for heads and others who support such staff.

There are three parts:

- a 16 page booklet
- 17 training cards
- an audit tool to help examine a school's provision and consider how to ensure that this celebrates and enhances young bilinguals' achievements.

Price for the pack £17.50 (including post and packing).
Discounts available for bulk orders.

To order, please contact
The National Education Trust
International House, 1 St Katharine's Way,
London E1W 1TW

Enhancing Achievement for Young Bilingual Learners

*training materials including: a booklet outlining the main issues
two-sided cards exploring key questions and ways of auditing provision in your school*

Phone 0207 702 0707
email office@nationaleducationtrust.net

Details about the National Education Trust can be seen on www.nationaleducationtrust.net
